2 Customer-care promises

2.1 We follow the principles set out below to help us provide an excellent customer service.

We will:

- put the community first;
- promote a good-quality customer service;
- be trained in delivering excellent services;
- make sure all our customers have equal and fair access to services;
- provide effective and efficient customer-focused processes;
- listen and respond appropriately to customers;
- measure satisfaction levels and act on the feedback we receive; and
- protect staff from inappropriate behaviour by the public.

2.2 We will try to achieve and maintain appropriate standards and awards for providing services and customer care. This includes the Customer Service Excellence Standard.

3 Customer care

- 3.1 All staff will identify 'themselves' and 'the council' when talking to customers.

If you visit our Customer Services Centres, hubs or offices, all staff will wear their corporate identification badge, and these will be clearly visible. If we visit you in your home or visit local businesses, we will always show our identity cards.

- 3.2 All staff will be trained in relevant customer service issues. We will identify what training staff need through our appraisal process and by regularly assessing their needs. Our staff development plan will include appropriate courses or learning activities.
- 3.3 New members of staff will take part in a corporate and service induction programme. They will also be regularly assessed for their ability to deliver excellent customer service.
- 3.4 All staff will make sure that they deal with customers fairly and equally, and will follow our equality policies and procedures.

4 Customer feedback

- 4.1 We encourage customers to give feedback through our correspondence, compliments and complaints procedure (the 3Cs). We will deal with all the feedback we receive in line with corporate policies. All feedback will be monitored, analysed and discussed at management and staff meetings. We will record and report on all the reasons we have learned and action we have taken.
- 4.2 We expect all staff to deal with complaints. Staff should sort out issues themselves whenever they can, without having to formally record them on the feedback system. However, it is good practice to report all incidents to a senior member of staff. If the member of staff cannot sort out the matter, they should refer it to the 3Cs team.

- 4.3 We will consult with customers, staff and stakeholders (organisations we work with) to find out how we can improve and develop customer care. Methods will include:
- customer satisfaction surveys;
 - keeping records of how we have worked with customers and what we have found out;
 - staff and stakeholder meetings;
 - staff surveys;
 - focus groups and workshops; and
 - internal and external assessment and inspection.
- 4.4 We will also work with other local authorities and any other appropriate service providers to share best practice and improve customer service.

5 Technology to deliver improved customer service

- 5.1 We will use and develop technology to improve customer service. We will monitor our information technology strategy regularly and we will use web-based technology to make electronic appointments, applications, payments and enquiries.
- 5.2 We will provide our customers with a range of service information and links to partner organisations.

6 Future achievements

- 6.1 We continually review and aim to improve our services. We aim to:
- improve on-line access;
 - maintain high levels of customer satisfaction levels;
 - maintain our high standard of CSE (Customer Service Excellence Accreditation).
